CALVIN GLADNEY APPOINTED AS URBAN DEVELOPMENT ADVISOR TO THE CITY OF DETROIT

Mr. Gladney will assist the City of Detroit with a local land use challenge

Washington, DC – Calvin Gladney, managing partner of Mosaic, has been appointed as an Expert Faculty Member for 2010-2011 by the Urban Land Institute's Daniel Rose Center for Public Leadership in Land Use. Mr. Gladney will advise the City of Detroit. The flagship program of the ULI Rose Center, the yearlong Daniel Rose Fellowship, benefits four cities by offering technical assistance on a local land-use challenge. Mr. Gladney joins 7 other experts from around the country that will work with teams led by the mayors of Charlotte, Detroit, Houston, and Sacramento. This appointment follows on the heels of Mr. Gladney's appointment to the Public Private Partnership Council (Blue Flight) of the national Urban Land Institute. The PPP Council consists of a select group of public private partnership leaders from around the country, including public sector and private sector professionals. "I am honored to be selected to further Mosaic's work advising public sector officials on urban redevelopment challenges," said Mr. Gladney. "Public sector officials and government real estate professionals increasingly need innovative solutions to solve their tough neighborhood revitalization challenges. I am pleased to work with the City of Detroit, and with other public private partnership experts who are committed, like I am, to transforming urban communities."
